Scavenger hunt ideas

I love a scavenger hunt in nature with the kids particularly over the school holiday period. It is always great to get them outdoors, exploring and observing.

Check out the printables provided within this activity bundle and try adding these activities with them.

1. Use a magnifying glass to get a closer look at the details of what you find.
2. Sketch pad and pencils, crayons to draw and journal the treasures you find.
3. Why not use a crayon and paper to scratch over a leaf, bark of a tree, rocks anything that has texture, see what patterns come up.
4. Collect flowers for pressing, either in a flower press or a big heavy book. Place flowers between baking paper so they do not stick to the pages of the book. You can use these when dry for card making, bookmarks or decorations on school book covers.
5. With the items you find, set up a project to discover more about those items. For example, find out the life of a bee, how many kinds of bees are they, how long do they live, how do they find a queen bee? Also learn about the many types of clouds, how high up are they, what are they made of?

Enjoy your scavenger hunt and get the whole family involved together with friends, hope you discover something new about your own backyard or park you visit regularly.
